

Cisco Webex Meetings with AT&T

Create a new era in team collaboration

Build the scalable, flexible and versatile collaboration platform your business needs with solutions, expertise, and support from AT&T.

Webex Meetings with AT&T is an enterprise-level collaboration platform. This solution provides teams with access to a range of industry-leading features, including the ability to host rich meetings with video, audio and chat, share files, present documents, and much more.

Customers can also take advantage of Cisco Webex Teams with AT&T, a free, easy-to-use, workflow-management and team collaboration platform. This pioneered solution supports contemporary teamwork and complements the capabilities of Webex Meetings with AT&T.

Webex Meetings with AT&T comes with a straightforward and scalable license model, based on monthly per-user fees.

Customers can access the latest collaboration functions with minimal capital investment, simplified contracting, and predictable pricing. The business benefits from increased business continuity and disaster recovery with reduced total cost of ownership (TCO), technology risk, and vendor complexity.

Workplace transformation through enhanced collaboration

Today's business calls for a new, agile way of working. Webex Meetings with AT&T, combined with Webex Teams with AT&T, is designed specifically to meet this need. It makes collaboration and messaging easy, inclusive, cost effective, and transformative.

In addition to industry-leading web-conferencing tools, this solution connects all team members in highly secure, accessible, and easy-to-use shared project workspaces. In each workspace, participants can make group videos or audio calls, chat by text, work on files, share meetings, and more.

If required, Webex Meetings with AT&T is compatible with Cisco Webex Calling with AT&T to provide full enterprise telephony. AT&T can personalize a UC transformation roadmap that can integrate into a range of voice and unified communications (UC) solutions, letting you migrate functions from on-premises, through hybrid, and to the cloud at your own pace.

Setting new standards in teamwork

Webex Meetings and Teams with AT&T is an industry-leading solution that enables a transformative model for teams to collaborate on projects and tasks. It enables all the communications, contacts, and content associated with a project to be available in a single, shared workspace. This can help reduce time that employees spend searching through emails and files for relevant project information, and help deliver higher productivity.

Webex Teams with AT&T has the ability to provide instant feedback through group messaging, and allows projects to move quickly from initial concept to realization and completion. If you recognize that a discussion will be important for reference, just hit “record.” Also, because the solution is “always on”, you never miss an important message or update.

AT&T can support your organization with workstream collaboration and further business-process integration. For organizations with greater regulatory demands, AT&T can help deliver compliant solutions for the most demanding environments.

The new extended world of collaboration

Many meetings and even more webinars include, or are targeted at, external audiences. Webex with AT&T is not only compatible with application suites such as Microsoft Office 365 and Google Apps, but it also allows you to broadcast meetings to a wide audience with Facebook Live. Webex with AT&T also allows APIs to integrate with other popular tools including Salesforce, Microsoft Teams, Slack, Trello, and learning management systems such as Canvas and Moodle.

AT&T collaboration expertise

AT&T can help you integrate the Webex platform with UC platforms from other vendors, including Google and Microsoft. With a global footprint in over 150+ countries, we're there to support you wherever you do business.

Our expert consultants will help you envision and strategize a UC transformation roadmap. With a track record in delivering world-class network and communications solutions, AT&T can help take your voice, UC, and video technologies towards integrated and automated business processes.

Webex with AT&T uses an active-user licensing model, which makes it both highly cost-effective and easily scalable.

You only pay for what you need. Transparency and consistency of pricing simplifies financial and resource planning.

The solution has a single, straightforward contract and standardized billings, so costs are predictable and easy to manage. As the platform is constantly updated with new features and functions, companies no longer need to factor in the periodic expenses and disruption caused by system-wide upgrades.

Webex Meetings with AT&T is your gateway to a new era in team collaboration.
